Appendix M: Q-TIPS

CCR Education-Abstracting-Coding Quality tips or “Q-Tips” are educational handouts developed to provide educational quality tips which are topic specific (primary site, individual data items, histology codes, disease characteristics, etc.) in an effort to improve coding and abstracting.

Q-Tips are developed in collaboration between the following registries:

- California Cancer Registry
- Greater Bay Area Cancer Registry
- Cancer Registry of Greater California
- Cancer Surveillance Program

Note: CCR “Q-Tips” are not designed to provide complete training information for all data fields related to a specific primary site or topic, but instead, address only those topics or data items which have been identified as needing review and/or clarification. The CCR “Q-Tips” do not replace the need to use all the usual abstracting and coding references for data collection.

See FLccSC for the CCR Q-Tips:

Beginning with 2021, CCR Q-Tips will only be available in the CCR learning management system FLccSC. To access your existing FLccSC account or Register as a new FLccSC User click here: FLccSC - Fundamental Learning Collaborative for the Cancer Surveillance Community

To access:

- Login to FLccSC; select course category “Q-Tips.”
- Find the “Q-Tips” you wish to review and “enroll.”
- “Enrolling” will move the Q-Tip to your Enrolled Courses tab where you can open it for review online or download it directly to your computer for saving.
- Once you have reviewed the Q-Tip and “finished” it will move to your Completed courses tab where it will remain indefinitely for review as needed.
